We invite you to attend the Sydney Vietnam Research Innovation Showcase, in Hanoi, Vietnam

Hosted by the University of Sydney, this full day event will highlight successes in research and education between the University of Sydney and its partners in Vietnam. The Showcase will engage local partners in a new vision for the University of Sydney in Vietnam.

The formal morning session will be attended by the Deputy Vice Chancellor (Research) of the University of Sydney. Leading researchers from both countries will present their research across a wide range of academic disciplines. The afternoon session will focus upon strategies for academic success in research, and presentation of research abstracts.
